A DRUNKEN FIGHT.

A Young Man from Asheville Badly Hurt.

Sunday morning about one o'clock a fight, in which one young man was seriously hurt, took place at a disreputable house in East Greensboro. About six young men were in the fight and a Greensboro young man knocked a young man from Asheville, in the head, fracturing his skull. The wound bled profusely—perhaps a quart of blood flowing from it.

Night Officers Whittington and Weatherly reached the scene shortly after the fight and, without making any arrests, at the time, brought the injured young man to the Benbow House where he was stopping. A physician was summoned and is yet attending him. The physician says that, though the wound is very bad one, the young man will be out by the latter part of the week.

The Greensboro young man who delivered the blow was arrested this morning and is now in jail. He will have a preliminary hearing before Mayor Taylor this afternoon. He is of a good family and it is a pity that he is connected with such a disreputable affair. The names of all the young men are withheld for the present for reasons best known to the police.

A FIRE TODAY.

W. A. Wingate's Bicycle Store the Scene of Destruction.

An exciting fire broke out at 1:15 o'clock today in W. A. Wingate's bicycle store, caused by the explosion of a can of gasoline. The flames spread rapidly, and as there was no alarm except the ringing of the court house bell, the firemen were late reaching the scene. Finally, however, when three streams of water were turned into the building the fire did not last long. The firemen worked heroically, ably directed by Acting Chief Pleasants, assisted by Ex-chief Stone.

The building belongs to Mrs. Yates and was very badly damaged especially in the rear part, It was insured in the Southern Stock Mutual for $400.

Mr. Wingate estimates his loss at $2,000 with $1,200 insurance. He saved nothing but biycles and a show case of bicycle and sewing machine fixtures. Four bicycles and three sewing machines were among the more valuable things destroyed.

WILSON WANTS HIS SON.

Chief of Police Rees Askec to Find Him.

Chief of police Rees received a postal this morning from J. Frank Wilson, of Indianapolis, Indiana, inquiring as to the whereabouts of his son, J. Frank Wilson, Jr., who has been around Greensboro for sometime. Mr. Wilson also wrote that he had sent the railroad fare for his son to come home.

Young Wilson is about 19 years old and has been in Greensboro for several months. Before he came here, he says, he was a private in the fifth regular cavalry, and was discharged on account of injury received by being thrown from his horse, in a sham battle. He goes about the streets dressed in part of the uniform of a cavalryman. He is destitute and without sufficient clothing for cold weather. He has not yet received the money, which his father claims to have sent, and Chief Rees is at a loss to know what to do. Wilson says his father is exsergeant of police of Indianapolis.

C. E. Eckles' House Burned.

Shortly after noon today, the home of Mr. C. E. Eckles, who lives about two miles east of town, was totally destroyed by fire Mr. Eckles and family came to town this morning, leaving no fire in the house except a few sparks in the cookstove, and has no idea as to how the fire originated. The house was a single story frame building. The loss is about $2,000, a large portion of which is in valuable books and oil paintings.

An Arm Broken.

Little William Wetmore, about 12 pears old, was the victim of a painful accident yesterday, at his home on King street. He was running up the steps when his foot slipped and he fell, throwing his whole weight on his left arm which struck against the edge of the porch floor. The small bone of the arm, below the elbow, was broken.

William had the large bone of the same arm broken a short while ago while playing roughly and this had just healed when the dose was repeated yesterday.

The Chocolate Party

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

NOT SUFFICIENTLY POSTED.

To Legislate Intelligently on The Philippines.

SAYS CONGRESSMAN BAILEY.

Favor Bryan and Currency Question For Campaign of Nineteen Hundred—Gen. Garcia Dead.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 12—Congressman Bailey, the democratic leader in the house of representatives, says Congress is not sufficiently posted to legislate intelligently with reference to the Philippine Islands. He is willing to see the whole matter go over until the next session. He is opposed to annexation and favors wise and just legislation.

BRYAN AND CURRENCY.

Washington, Dec. 12—Among the democratic senators here twenty-three favor Col. Wm. J. Bryan for leader in 1900, and the old issues until new ones are developed. Of the democratic representatives here ninety-nine favor Brayan and currency question. Nine are non-committal.

GEN. GARCIA DEAD.

Washington, Dec. 12—In speaking of the death of Gen. Garcia, which occurred yesterday, Col. Sanguilly said today that "the plans of the Cuban commission which General Garcia had mapped out will be carried into effect by the remaining members according to his known wishes. No one will be sent to replace him as a member of the commission, but as soon as we get settled again the work will proceed."

GARCIA'S FUNERAL.

Washington, Dec. 12—The arrangements for General Garcia's funeral have not yet been completed, but the services will probably be held in St. Patrick's church and be performed by the High Prelate of the Catholic church.

The body will be placed in a vault awaiting its final disposition. It will undoubtedly be interred in Cuba. The military arrangements are in the hands of the war department. All the honors of war will be rendered at the funeral of the distinguished Cuban patriot.

Hon. D. A. Covington Dead.

Judge Timberlake, who is holding court here, received a telegram this morning announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Hon. D. A. Covington, which occurred at his home in Monroe this morning.

Judge Timberlake will close court this afternoon, and accompanied by his wife, who is here with him, will leave tonight for Monroe to attend the funeral.

Mr. Covington was assistant district attorney for the western district under Hon. Robert Glenn and was known and admired by his fellow lawyers throughout the state.

Child Badly Burned.

The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cox, who live on North Elm street, was seriously burned this this morning, by playing too near the fire, its dress catching from the fireplace. Mrs. Cox stepped out of the room, leaving the child alone, and was gone but a moment when she heard the little one screaming—running in she found the child's dress ablaze almost all over. The mother quickly smothered the flames and sent for a physician, who dressed the burns and did all in his power to alleviate the intense suffering of the little one. The child was badly burned on the face and arms.

A Treat.

The following is contributed by a gentleman confined in the county jail on a peace bond. It is the result of much study and was composed immediately after a hearty breakfast:

We prisners of the county jail injoyed quite a treat Sunday morning in the way of biscuit and well fryed bacon good coffee and mollasses. biscuit has bin quite a strangor in these walls for quite a while horah for the new sheriff.

Isn't it strange that some people have to fix up their sidewalk or the town will fix it up for them and make them pay for it sometimes where there is not so much passing done thereon, and that there is a sidewalk on Main street within 250 yards of the centre of the town, where there is a ditch in the middle of the sidewalk that zigzags like the worm of a fence and that it is an actual fact that more water runs in this ditch than in the side ditch along this sidewalk, and that it is in front of the property of one of the wealthiest men in town. Possibly when the town authorities are making their round looking at the sidewalks, their eyes fall upon the magnificent abodes along these sidewalks and not upon the walks.

Those unnecessary doors at the entrance to the post office which we mentioned last week have been taken down we are glad to state.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by C. E. Holton.

A VERY SLIM ATTENDANCE.

At the Democratic Caucus Saturday Night.

BAILEY'S OPPONENTS NOT THERE.

An Existing Sentiment Against Caucus Rule to Bind Members On Matters of Legislation.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 12—The democratic caucus held Saturday night was very slimly attended, though considerable interest was manifested. The opponents of Mr. Bailey, with very few exceptions remained away from the caucus. Out of a total of 126 members only 86 were present, and about 65 of those in attendance are known to be friendly to the Texas Congressman. What course the opponents of Mr. Bailey will take is not known, as no opposition was manifested in the caucus to the adoption of the resolutions which have been pending since last June. There is a sentiment existing against caucus rule to bind members on matters of legislation, upon which there is a division in the party, and upon which the national democratic convention has not been called upon to decide. It is notable that Representative McMillan, who has recently had a very exciting controversy with Mr. Bailey was not present. Representative Richardson, however, who is president of the caucus, and who aspires to succeed Mr. Bailey as minority leader was present, as were also several other members of the Tennessee delegation.

There is only one democrat in the present house from North Carolina, and he was not present at the caucus.

Members who were in attendance were seen after the caucus adjourned, and they state that the meeting was harmonious, and that the resolutions adopted are binding alike upon those who attended, and upon those who absented themselves for one reason, or another. During the caucus not once was the leadership of Mr. Bailey questioned, and the subject of the minority leadership of the Fifty-sixth congress was not broached by any one. The opinion of a majority of the caucus is that the question of the minority leadership of the Fifty-sixth congress can well afford to go over to the next congress without being discussed at this time as this house has nothing whatever to do with the subject.

Governor Russell, who is in the city on business connected with the war department, called to see President McKinley Saturday afternoon, and had quite a lengthy discussion with him concerning matters of interest to the state. The governor would not say whether the recent troubles at Wilmington were broached by the president, but the impression is that the matter was discussed. The governor, since being in Washington, has been very reticent, refusing to talk upon his future course of action in any particular. He said Saturday afternoon, however, that he had no fear of impeachment proceedings before the next legislature, which is about to assemble. Governor Russell spent Sunday in Washington quietly, at the Ebbitt House, receiving a few callers.

Col. and Mrs. Morehead, who have recently returned to Washington, have opened their residence, having leased what is known as the Curry House. The mansion is quite large, and will enable them to entertain during the winter, as is their custom. It is likely that their home will form one of the most attractive of the southern colony in Washington.

The First North Carolina regiment, it is said, will have the honor of being the first volunteer regiment to land at Havana. The regiment is now en route for Cuba, having left Savannah the other day.

Miss Katydid Jones, a well known young lady of Washington city, is visiting North Carolina for a few weeks. At the present she is the guest of Mrs. Shepard, in Hillsboro, where she will remain for some time.

Col. Webster, and quite a number of prominent South Carolina politicians are in the city for the purpose of interesting the president in the post office appointments in South Carolina, before his departure for the South.

The Spartanburg, South Carolina, post office becomes vacant in a few days, and it is expected the appointment will be sent to the Senate.

Among North Carolina people in Washington are Thomas P. Wilcox, of Elizabeth City; Lewis Walker, of Milton; J. P. Overman, Elizabeth City: George K. Pritchard, Bakerville; and Mr. and Mrs B. S. Clark.

ADVICE TO COLORED MEN.

From an address on the "Political War in the South" by Rev. James L. White, colored, delivered in the Shiloh Baptist church, Washington, D. C., we make an extract which will be of interest in this section. The Reverend White states what every intelligent man of both races in North Carolina knows to be the truth from personal observation. Following is the extract, and remember as you read it that it is a colored man who is talking:

"In North Carolina four-fifths to nine-tenths of the republicans are colored men. These men are led by what is known in the south as the third-class white men. It is well known in the southern states that the best element of the white men are, as a rule, democrats. Colored men have been marshalled for over thirty years to fight directly against the interests of the south. This political war will continue in the south as long as the colored men are led by these third-class white men. As a rule the southern wing of the republican party, the white men, are not respected among the good white citizens of the south, and are placed in office in many places by colored voters solely. These men have misled the colored people ever since the late civil war.

"I will offer for the first remedy that the colored men throughout the United States stop voting for these third-class white men, who are so called among their own race, and can only get office by the colored vote, and let the colored men make friends with the best class of white citizens, and stop appealing to the government and running around like school boys after the President of the United States and the governors of the various states and to the congress of the United States to amend the constitution to protect the citizens of the United States, who are a part of the greatest nation in the civilized world.

"I am assured that the colored men will find no better friends than among the first-class white men of the south. I have lived in North Carolina for over thirty-five years, and have had direct dealings as a contractor with the first-class white men, having at times worked over twenty-five and thirty men at a time. I never worked as a servant, but always as a contractor and as a business man, and, therefore, I was thrown in personal contact with the best men of the south, and if I had to seek a friend today there is nowhere in the United States that I would go in preference to North Carolina."

Pains in the chest when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful conditien tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A Georgia Love Song.

De 'possum whip de raccoon—
De coon tear up de dog;
De alligator see de fight
En tumble off de log!
(Oh, Miss Nancy,
I yo' lover true;
I gwine ter swim de river
An' ax ter marry you.)
De gray owl chase de sparrow hawk,
De hawk says: "Dis won't do!"
De tarrypin he laugh so much
He break his shell in two!
(Oh, Miss Nancy,
Wear dem ribbons blue;
I gwine ter swim de river
An' ax to marry you.)

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well! now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

The Peruchi-Beldeni company, who hold the boards at the Academy of Music all this week, came in yesterday from Danville, where they closed a most successful week Saturday night. This is said to be one of the best popular price companies on the road, and have a splendid repertoire.

Dr. Rowe, pastor of West Market street church gave his congregation some sensible and practical thoughts last night on the relations which should exist between pastor and flock, and their duties, each to the other. If the lines, as laid down by him last night, are faithfully and honestly followed much and lasting good to the church will result.

Children, have your mother to read this to you. We have the prettiest lot of little folks' gloves that you ever saw. Little mittens in three colors, fleece-lined kids with fur tops, undressed kids—the cutest, warmest little things, and if you will have your mama to tell Santa about it, it would not surprise us the least bit if you get a pair on Xmas morning. Remember to tell Santa that the gloves are at Matthews, Chisholm, Stroud & Rankin's, the folks who look after the needs of the little folks as well as the grown up men.

Baby shoes, no heels and spring heels, 40, 50, 65 and 75c a pair, at Thacker & Brockmann's, positively the best little shoes for the price ever shown in this town.

A Holiday Winner.

We take pleasure in directing your attention to the mammoth advertisement of Kaufmann, the haberdasher and dealer in men's shoes. His store is a beautiful emporium of everything that is lovely and attractive, in the lines carried, which embrace all articles of gentlemen's dress, except clothing and hats. The stock is all new, and the styles are of the very latest design. If the good ladies will allow us to suggest, we will say that Kaufmann's stock is replete with everything necessary to make desirable Christmas presents for men. Read the big ad on third page of this paper.

A Letter to Santa.

BROWN'S.

"THE GOOD LORD

has always a way to provide for the poor," was the cheerful remark of a good hearted preacher a few days ago, and after closely examining each and every article at the great manufacturers' sale of clothing, and while removing his spectacles, approached the proprietor in his solemn way and said: "You, stranger, are the instrument of Providence sent to the community of Greensboro," and since we have seen the hundreds aud hundreds of poor clad people block our doors and carry out the best clothing at prices that even the cheapest kind can not be bought here in town, we began to think of the divine man's words.

It is time for you all to follow the example,

Our Stay is Short,

and if you don't come in time you won't find our goods, and that means paying the old high prices for your clothing again. Save your money and come to the

McAdoo Building,

Corner East Market and Davie Streets.
